California Army National Guard Unit Environmental Compliance Officer (UECO)
Course

1. Effective immediately, all Active Guard Reserve Soldiers that are incumbent or hired for either the Readiness, Training Non-commissioned Officer, or Supply Sergeant positions are required to complete the California Army National Guard Unit Environmental Compliance Officer (UECO) course within six months of hire. The course is offered by the California National Guard Environmental Directorate periodically at various locations state-wide. Course schedule, dates, and enrollment information are available at the Environmental Directorate webpage (<http://www.calguard.ca.gov/caev/>).
2. The purpose of attending this course is to ensure that Soldiers performing their day-to-day tasks have an understanding of the significant impact their jobs have on the environment. This course provides the knowledge and training to assist in bringing units in compliance with applicable federal, state, and local laws to include hazardous materials storage/handling and hazardous waste disposal. Failure to complete the course within the specified time will be noted on the Soldier's evaluation report.
3. Should you have any questions, contact CW4 Dominic D. DeNiro, AGR manager, at CAGNET 63403, DSN 466-3403 or (916) 854-3403.
